

Amateur Radio ("Ham") Technician License Tutored In-Person Class and FCC Testing

Class Schedule

This is a FREE 6-week class held in person at the Nassau Emergency Operations Center (EOC) on Wednesdays from 7pm to 9pm.

Class starts 28-September-2022 and ends with your official FCC exam on 2-November-2022.

Even with no prior experience or technical knowledge you can get your FCC license in only 6 weeks - just like 100s of students in prior classes!

Class Location

The EOC is at 77150 Citizen's Circle, Yulee, FL 32097 just a short distance off Hwy 200 & I-95 in Yulee Florida

What to Bring to Class

All you'll need is a pen and paper and a desire to learn. I'll provide a printed hand-out and links to online (and smartphone) resources. No textbook is required.

I really do "leave no student behind" ☺, so no matter your technical background, you can do this, and join our vibrant Amateur Radio community.

What to Expect in Class

- Please do not attend if you have symptoms or have been diagnosed with CoVid.
- Sign-in with name, phone, and email so you can have a copy of each handout.
- You will get an extensive handout and links to additional online resources.
- The class is highly interactive so the more you participate, the more and faster you will learn!

The FCC Exam

We'll start the final class on 2-November with a review session before the volunteer examiners arrive to administer the test. You'll know your score within minutes and will receive your new call sign just a few days later.

The ARRL fee for the test is $15 payable in cash on the last day of class. The FCC will bill you $35 to issue your new license. Those are the only fees required for a lifetime of amateur radio!

Brand NEW:

Concurrent General License Class!

I will be teaching Technician level from 7-9 each class and then adding the General level material from 9-930. If you have your Technician license now, this is the perfect time to review the basics and pass the General exam.

Wanna go direct to General? Many of my students, most of them brand new to radio and electronics, passed both the Technician and General exams with just this 6 week class.

TO REGISTER FOR CLASS NOW [or to ask questions!]

Email course@N7LER.com with your name and phone number in case of schedule changes.

